
TO THE READER,

Gentlemen,

I Pray make a little room for a Cöbler, his work was done in time, but a Ship setting Sail one day too soon makes it appear some Weeks too late; Seeing he is so reasonable as to demand no other pay for his labour and leather, but leave to pay us well for our faults, let it be well accepted, as Counsel in our occasions to come, and as Testimony to what is past,

By a Friend.
